BEAUTY SHOWS.

CONFUSING TERMS.

Mr. Conkling is reported to have spoken bitterly at the Saturday Night Club dinner of the spirit that condemns all leaders as bosses. "To be a leader," he said, "is to be a boss," and that is a term of approbation now-a-days. If Mr. Conkling is correctly reported—which we doubt—he mistakes the application of the word "boss" when used as an epithet. Mr. Conkling is too sagacious a public man and of too broad experience in politics not to realize the distinction. Parties have leaders, and partisans accept them as the legitimate growth and result of party organization; but the boss is a very different personage. The leader, by consent, leads, the "boss" seeks to drive. The leader convinces; the "boss" threatens. The leader invites his following; the "boss" cracks the party whip and commands the men he would enslave. The leader carries the banner; the "boss" yields the lash. Backed by the spoils system, the "boss" dares the hireling to disobey. Fortified by reason, the leader appeals to the independence of the man and voices the will of the organization that deputes him to that high function. There should be no confusion of the terms, for the "boss" can never become the "leader."

WISE UTTERANCES.

The new Postmaster-General, General Gresham, is not only a talented and eloquent speaker, but he is far-seeing, wise and patriotic. One of the sentences he uttered at the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee in April, 1861, deserves to be written in the hearts of every true American citizen: "The struggle for the maintenance of popular government, to which men have given their lives and devoted their best faculties, has greatly degenerated, and ceased to be edifying to the world when it shrinks to the dimensions of a petty and pitiful quarrel about what is mislabeled the 'patronage.' But it is a 'good' who must unite, and it is reasonable to assume that they will unite for the common weal and against the downward tendencies of their own political union or party. So, by their doing so, and only then, will the party be edified."

It is pretty well settled now among European politicians that the recognition which was made in expectancy to Russia, and that is to prevent Germany from waxing strong. It is also to the interest of Russia to buy her people, and a foreign war, in whatever form it presents. It should be enough, it is enough, to be an American citizen. There is no reason to be advanced for drawing "artificial lines," as the Boston Advertiser some time ago aptly termed these race and class distinctions. The next we know the Irish, and then the Germans, the Scotch or the English who have foreseen allegiance to foreign princes and potentates and taken the oath as "citizen of this republic will be convening and demanding their "rights in society and politics." Now, in truth, they have no rights whatever in their class or race relation. Every right these enjoy is the right of an American citizen, irrespective of color or nationality. Those of them who exclaim that they are "excluded" are fanatics, short-sighted or foolish. American citizens stand equal before the law, and whenever one class or race sets up special claims for recognition it may be suspected of offering its political support to the demagogue who will promise most. If races and classes could only be brought to realize it, they would see that they do themselves infinite injury by all such demagogic statements. The negro in America has been the victim of wrong and oppression. He was for long years a chattel and a thing of bargain and sale; he was kept in the bonds of slavery and ignorance, and it was all the fault of the nation. It should make him all the reparation in its power, and it has done this by making him a political equal with all other citizens—unless we except the possible obligation to promote his education. But there is no obligation to give him office, to advance him in business, or command his admission into this or that circle of society. All these are private rights, to be attained, if at all, by personal merit, and all convention demands and class denunciation will but retard the very ends aimed at. Neither color, place of birth or condition in life can be rightly pleaded as a reason for business, social or political recognition. That they are now used in the form of menaces is one of the evils of the day that need correction. We want a broader comprehension of what constitutes American citizenship; we need the cultivation of humility to clamorous of every kind, and an especial abhorrence of the classification of American citizens, such as colored citizens, Irish Americans, native Americans, German voters, etc. All such designations are offensive, and bring into contempt and disrepute the one all-embracing and only proper designation—American citizens.

GENERAL NEWS.

GENERAL CROOK AND THE APACHES.

EL PASO (Tex.), May 9th.—The Apaches, continuing their raid and today of a disposition to Geary's Creek. They came with a party over the Mexican Government wires, and were said to have been sent after Adjutant-General Drum, now in route to Fort Verde. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

MILITARY PARADE.—General orders, No. 2, issued from headquarters, Fourth Brigade, N. G. C., are as follows: "In compliance with the request contained in general orders, No. 4, issued from division headquarters, dated San Francisco, April 24, 1883, and fully and entirely concurring in the same, it is further expressed, and in furtherance of former feelings already existing between the Grand Army of the Republic and the National Guard, the troops of this brigade, located in the city of Sacramento, and such others as may be convened by and held in the city, will participate in the memorial services on Decoration Day, Wednesday, May 30, 1883. The commanding officer of the First Battalion, Fourth Regiment, Fourth Brigade, N. G. C., will issue special orders for such parades, conforming to the arrangements made by the Marshal of the day. He will further make such orders as may seem advisable to him respecting the time of his appearance and the manner of appearance. The staff of the Brigadier-General commanding will report to the Assistant Adjutant-General on the day named, one hour prior to the time fixed for the parade, and will be at brigade headquarters, mounted and in full uniform. The Sacramento Hussars are hereby cordially invited and urgently requested to join the National Guard in the observance of Decoration Day, Wednesday, May 30, 1883. The entire command is hereby tendered as escort to the Grand Army of the Republic of the city, and will render its services in decorating the graves of the honored and the fallen, and in the use of its power. Floral contributions solicited from the patriotic living for the patriots dead." Company F, of Woodland, will participate in the parade.

THE COMING RACES.—The Breeder and Sportsman, in speaking of the spring races to take place in this city next week, says: "We are pleased to hear that the enterprise of the people of Sacramento is likely to be appreciated, and that there will be a fair representation of horses as a token that owners and trainers are inclined to second the efforts of the club. There is not a city or town in California, and through the inhabitants of Stockton are spirited and full of vim, the Petaluma folks active, intelligent, determined to make a front in the racing world, breed all kinds of horses, more money to be made in Sacramento to further turf sports than any town of its size in the whole country. Where all do so well it appears invincible to make comparison. There is no place in California that can compare with Sacramento in fair grounds, especially in first-class race-courses. From Chico to Los Angeles there are tracks every province in town that cannot be equalled in any other city in the state. Each and some of them may have finer buildings, the superiority of the California tracks is so decided as to call forth the praise of all those who compare with the other tracks in the country. It is unnecessary to eulogize the Sacramento course, it is conceded to be one of the best, and now that the only objection to be removed by increasing the number of first-class meetings, the 'growing' at it would surely find fault with a duplicate of the Garden of Eden if that was their dwelling-place. The Capital Turf Club is doing its part to keep up an interest in the spring meeting."

LECTURE OF MISS WILLARD.—The first lecture by Miss Frances E. Willard, President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, was given last evening at the large street M. E. Church, before a very large audience, and was received with too small an accomodate for all who wished to hear the speaker, and many, after remaining at the outer door a short time, went away. The lecture was very closely listened to by the audience, and will be repeated. Miss Willard is a tall and direct speaker, and her treatment of the subject of temperance includes methods and arguments which bring the audience into close sympathy with her reasoning. A meeting will be held this afternoon at the Women's Christian Temperance Union, at the same place, at which Miss Willard and Miss Anna Gordon will be present. The lecture will be at the Congregational Church, and of course will be well attended, and will commence at half-past 7. Miss Willard will no doubt be greeted again with an audience which will test the full capacity of the spacious church in which she is to speak.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—At the Board of Supervisors' meeting yesterday, the petition of G. Morton and others for a road in Bridgeport, and the road from the bridge, and the accompanying bond, approved. J. Patterson, John Shulman, Jr., and A. G. Winn were appointed viewers. The petition and bond of J. N. Andrews and others for a road across the Confluence River was read, and G. T. Clegg, A. Woodward, A. G. Winn were appointed viewers. Ballou reported that the committee had sold the County Hospital for $175,000 and paid the money into the County treasury. The bond and subscription were presented to the county. Board adjourned until 10 A. M.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—Yesterday Gov. Stomman commissioned Notaries Public to reside as follows: Maurice Reuter, Yreka, Siskiyou county, vice self, term expired; A. B. Atkinson, Rivesville, Tehama county, vice self, term expired; C. R. Wheelock, Occidental, Humboldt county, vice self, term expired; E. Conway, Riverside, San Bernardino county, vice self, term expired; P. R. Fraser, Stockton, San Joaquin county, vice self, term expired; A. S. Kitterman, Carr, Millville, Santa Cruz county.

HORSE THIEF HELD TO ANSWER.—On the night of May 1st, a horse, saddle and bridle, belonging to C. P. Massey, Jr., were stolen from a stable near Sixteenth and Y streets. A Mexican named Juan Floris, who had the theft, was arrested on Saturday, May 5th. Floris, then a waiter at the hotel, arrived in this city with him on the second-modern train Tuesday evening. Yesterday morning the prisoner had an examination before the Superior Court with bail fixed at $1,000.

BOY DROWNED.—Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock a boat containing an unknown boy was upset in the river at the foot of K street, and the boy drowned. The boat belonged to a fisherman living nearly opposite, on the Yolo side of the river. The boy was an infant, about a year old, and was found dead in the water, the peace, contained two days; Miss Mable, judge for disturbing the peace, fixed $5 and costs; Mary McCarthy, Fair, judge for disturbing the peace, paid $5 and costs.

MYSTEROUS FOOT-PRINTS.—It is understood that Dr. Harwick will be called upon to examine some foot-prints which have been found in the flower beds of the State Capitol grounds. The foot-prints were discovered in Petaluma on the first Tuesday in June next: M. Wilson, M. Wetzel, H. Meyer, W. A. Horner, E. Q. Nagel, and others. The foot-prints were found in the evening when the presented H. Meyer, the retiring N. A. P. and a beautiful jewel. This was followed by an old-fashioned Druid's lunch.

A CONVEYOR.—A man at the depot last evening in an intoxicated condition, became rather abusive, and notified a number of the railroad employees that he was a cowboy from Arizona. The statement did not appear to be true, and the condition of the company proposed to give one of them a theoretical demonstration. Officers Brissell and Eldred interfered and arrested the man. He refused to give up his revolver, and the officers took him to the station house. The officers who took the man to the prison are inclined to believe that there is some truth in it.

ADVERTISING DODGES.

We know of nothing so well calculated to put us in a very interesting account of some scientific discovery, replete with interest, and just as the reader's mind is thoroughly impressed with the subject, a gigantic effort is made to divert his attention to some other topic. For instance, a deodorized extract of petroleum, as now improved and perfected, has really done wonders in the hair-producing way, as hundreds of certificates from well-known citizens attests. It is clearly a patentable article, and the discoverer takes place almost immediately. It contains nothing injurious; is, in fact, a natural hair restorer, made of pure petroleum, and is used in the hair-dressing and hair-cutting saloons, and has really done wonders in the hair-producing way, as hundreds of certificates from well-known citizens attests.

IT IS CLEARLY A PATENTABLE ARTICLE, AND THE DISCOVERER TAKES PLACE ALMOST IMMEDIATELY.

CONTINUATION.—The record-Union con-respondent at Placerville says: The Directors of the El Dorado District Agricultural Association No. 8 will hold a meeting at Auburn County Thursday, May 10th, to see whether they will hold their fair this year.

The citizens of Placerville have raised by subscription about $1,300 to keep the fair in Placerville.

BOND FILED.—Robert McMillan, the contractor for the construction of the new Agricultural and Expedition building, yesterday filed his bond with the Capitol Commissioners in the sum of $25,000, with E. B. and R. R. Simpson, of Oakland, as sureties. The Board will meet to-day to approve the bond.
